How can we instill these values in youth and families effectively?

Show them Scouting in a new, exciting, and relevant way...
Mission. To bring the values of Scouting to more Americans, MacGillivray Freeman Films and Alvin Townley are partnering to produce a high-definition, high-adventure widescreen film that will share Scouting’s story in a new, powerful, exciting, and strategic way. The film and its related initiatives will:

1. Attract new members to Scouting
   - The film will carry Scouting’s story to the American public in a new and powerful way. Through their actions and words, the film’s subjects will prove Scouting’s value proposition to individuals, families, and communities currently uninvolved.
   - SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE will attract new members by introducing more youth and families to Scouting.

2. Inspire current Scouts, leaders, and alumni
   - The film’s excitement, role models, and message will inspire current Scouts to continue their journey and will remind adults of Scouting’s lifelong trail.
   - Alumni will renew their support of the Movement with their time, advocacy, funds, and children’s membership.

3. Support Scout units and local councils
   - Film screenings can energize local councils, units, communities, and donors; the film and its resources will enrich the unit-level Scout experience.
   - Edited clips will provide units and councils with modern, inspiring, and effective tools for teaching, recruiting, and fundraising.
   - Related programs offer new tools to help Scouts, leaders, and volunteers.

4. Inspire America and reignite Scouting
   - SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE brings Scouting’s story to the American public in a subtle yet engaging manner, reminding everyone of Scouting’s role and inspiring all viewers to pursue their own adventure with a greater purpose.
   - Publicity and impressions will bring new momentum to Scouting’s Second Century.
A global odyssey to rediscover Scouting. By canvassing the globe to meet truly extraordinary young men and women, this high adventure film will capture the imagination of the public, families, alumni, and our Scouts while introducing America to a rising generation of servant leaders.

SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE – a high-definition widescreen production

To rediscover Scouting, two co-hosts set out on a sweeping global adventure to learn how Scouting has shaped a new generation of leaders and how these young men and women are, in turn, shaping our world. As it moves from location to location, this groundbreaking feature-length high adventure film will introduce audiences to former Scouts who are living the values of Scouting as they pursue adventures with a greater purpose.

Regardless of viewers’ familiarity with the 40-million strong worldwide Scouting Movement, SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE will share Scouting’s important story, teach the values of character and service, and inspire youth and adults alike to live and serve with purpose and passion.

The film unites America’s Scouting family and features alumni of Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs, broadening the film’s appeal and joining two organizations that share common goals and common founders in Lord and Lady Baden-Powell.

The following pages offer potential film subjects who our hosts will meet and interview on location as their compelling worldwide odyssey progresses.

No medium has ever captured Scouting’s rich spirit and told our story in such a compelling manner.

Potential subjects. Producers and lead funders will determine the final list of featured former Scouts, aiming to offer viewers a diverse and engaging slate of subjects who will represent the breadth of Scouting and who will resonate with America. Six potential candidates are listed below. NOTE: Final subject list may vary based on numerous factors.

Frank Weisser – LCDR Frank Weisser pilots Blue Angel Five, the lead solo plane in the U.S. Navy’s elite flight demonstration squadron, the Blue Angels. Frank lives the adventure of flight while serving his country. He credits Scouting with helping him learn to set high goals. Location: Pensacola, Florida or USS Nimitz.

Steph Wear – As a Girl Scout, Steph Wear learned about her responsibility to the environment and she now helps direct the coral reef conservation program for The Nature Conservancy, traveling and diving around the world to train other marine biologists and study the precious and fragile ecosystems of our oceans’ coral reefs. Location: Florida Keys or PALAU.

Erik Fisher – Eagle Scout Erik Fisher competes in the Super-G event on the U.S. Ski Team, and aims to accompany the team to Sochi, Russia, for the 2014 Winter Olympics. Representing his country, he races down slopes at blinding speeds, truly living an adventure. Location: Salt Lake City, Utah

Sheryl Crow – Renowned singer and musician Sheryl Crow learned to leave her campsites better than she found them while growing up in Girl Scouts. She has since endeavored to use her musical success as a Grammy Award-winning singer to improve the world for others. Location: Los Angeles, California

Buey Tut – Buey fled Sudan at age twelve then survived a violent Omaha housing project thanks to Scouting. After beating the odds and graduating from the University of Nebraska, he worked on Capitol Hill then founded Aqua-Africa, an organization that drills water wells for needy villages in South Sudan. Location: SOUTH SUDAN

Pip Coe – Now an instructor at the National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS), Pip began paddling as a Girl Scout and never stopped. She worked at the Nantahala Outdoor Center, sharing her passion for running rivers and conserving their watersheds. Pip now guides and instructs NOLS students on expeditions around the world. Location: Ocoee River, Tennessee

The production team. The SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE production team understands Scouting, film production, and adventure with purpose. The four passionate individuals leading this project will ensure the end product reflects the values and spirit of Scouting and engages viewers inside and outside the Scouting community.

Alvin Townley (at Baden-Powell gravesite in Kenya) – Eagle Scout and best-selling author Alvin Townley has written the nationally acclaimed books, Legacy of Honor, Spirit of Adventure, and Fly Navy. He has traveled thousands of miles across the country and around the world to discover Scouting’s legacy and share its message, effectively engaging members of Scouting and the general public. Alvin serves as the film’s executive producer, securing funding, driving the storyline, and overseeing related program initiatives.

Greg and Shaun MacGillivray – Academy Award® nominated director Greg MacGillivray founded Laguna Beach-based MacGillivray Freeman Films in 1975 and has become one of the documentary film world’s most acclaimed and prolific directors, producing thirty-five high-adventure IMAX® films, including two of history’s top three highest-grossing documentaries. His son Shaun has now produced three IMAX® films and is leading the expansion of the company’s multi-platform digital operations.

Burton Roberts – An Eagle Scout, Northwestern University MBA, and veteran of the CBS show Survivor, Burton brings deep on-location filming and global production expertise to this venture. He worked extensively with the Boy Scouts of America during their 100th Anniversary celebration and has produced numerous adventure-related programs and pilots for major networks and multi-platform outlets.

Next. Next, we must build a team of visionary and engaged individuals who share a passion for Scouting and understand how this film and its related programs can reignite our Movement and re-engage America. If not us, then who? If not now, then when?

The values of Scouting remain strong in America, but at the dawn of our second century, our Movement needs a Resurgence. We must inspire our Scouts and leaders, while reminding America that Scouting offers youth the foundation they need to realize their aspirations.

By supporting SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE, you can help grow Scouting once again, strengthen our brand, and restore our place in America.

Please consider how you can help by calling upon:

- Private resources
- Foundation resources
- Corporate resources

Together, we can invest in Scouting and shape our nation’s future.

*In all of this, it is the spirit that matters...*

– Lord Robert Baden-Powell
