NAATE Program Overview

NAATE's mission is to develop, leverage, and retain our nation's top-tier teachers for improved student and school performance through an intense, advanced program of study that balances instructional mastery and leadership.

NAATE is a rigorous program of study that cultivates an elite corps of extraordinary teacher leaders committed to the classroom and dedicated to closing the achievement gap in our nation's high-needs schools.

NAATE is unique among teacher development programs in being geared to experienced teachers who have already been identified as high-performers. High caliber teachers from across the nation immerse themselves in an intense, residential program of study that links their daily practice to key theories, frameworks and principles of the teaching profession. Through inquiry based whole group discussion in the case study method, the program equips teachers with tools to:

- develop and deepen their classroom practice, and
- leverage leadership skills with peers and other adults outside the classroom
